The ethics bills being considered by the Alabama legislature have hit a bit of opposition, as some lawmakers seem to feel cramped at the existing ethics laws and are opposed to any strengthening of these regulations. Researchers have reported that Alabama already has the weakest ethics laws in the nation, and we actually hear folks covered by the ethics law advocating we water them down further. To the credit of the entire Alabama Senate is their unprecedented move to pass a resolution urging a committee to report out of committee two bills to strengthen the ethics law. We don't think any honest person would have any problem with supporting such stronger laws.

Gov. Wallace's so-called "sin tax" bills have little chance of passing in this session of the Alabama legislature. Most of us don't like the word "tax" if it is placed on us -- it is an election year and most of our lawmakers want to go back for another four years -- you just don't raise taxes right before an election. However, right after the elections, we can look for them to go back into session, and pass on at least some of these taxes. Of course there will be some sweeteners in the way of special appropriations (or pork barrel) to make the pill easier to swallow; but they are coming one way or another.

We are publishing the required legal notices to allow the City of Elba to expand the city limits. The areas to be taken in are irregular and follow most highways out of town and several hundred feet on each side; but if you are not sure about your area, read the legal notice carefully and then if you are like me, you still need someone to tell you just what is happening! This is the second of a four-week publication.

We are also running another interesting ad this week. An out-of-court settlement in a class action suit on housing foreclosures apparently means some folks might get their foreclosed homes back. We don't fully understand why, but since ours wasn't in that group we will just accept it as fact and go

The flu bug appears to be retreating, according to figures from the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta. Most of those who had the bug this year suffered from the one commonly called "Russian flu," but there was quite a few who had a bug that was a little different (mutant flu) and defied treatment with the normal treatments. Experts are working to develop immunities to this new strain and hope to have it in circulation in time for the flu season next

We noted last week that President Marcos probably left the Philippines with an extra penny or so in his pocket. Now some so-called experts are contending he and his cronies left with BILLIONS! Now that is getting a bit greedy and we expect the lawsuits to stay in the courts for years to come

NASA is still under fire following the failure of the spacecraft and death of seven American citizens. We are a bit disappointed to find they are human like us and make mistakes, but some of the static we are reading needs to be put in proper perspective. Most, if not all, of us have 20/20 hindsight and can say the flight shouldn't have taken place. . . . now that it has blown up; but I wonder what our opinions would be if we didn't know about the deaths.

"Workfare" - or putting welfare recipients to work in public service jobs - is a good idea. It catches the fancy of those paying the bills, and more mportantly experts report it works. Welfare recipients who are doing some kind of work stand a better chance of getting a job in private industry than those not working . . . government studies have proven that. Besides, we all at a home on East Davis St. (9:04 know someone we feel is "on the draw" because they are too lazy to work; and this is a good way to at least make that a little less attractive and still SATURDAY, MARCH 1 have money available to help those really in need.

Daddy would get out and play with us -- we'd play Stealing Sticks' and 'Hide Seek.' They were good, hardworking, honest Christian people Out of love and respect for Mama, my oldest brother would never use slang language in front of her, and he forgot and said a slang word, and Mama leaned over and slapped him lightly on the face; but he got the message." A bygone era, regrettably - right?

brother, lives in Elba, and is married the former Merle Banks of Mrs. Cordell received her early schooling through the 7th grade at the old Rhodes Schoolhouse and then attended the Elba High School. She moved to Elba from her home in the Shiloh Community and lived with her father's two sisters, Miss Ruth Lee and Mrs. Minnie White, who lived a few houses on the left before you go over the Whitewater Bridge up toward Smith Avenue

She later attended a Mr. Talley's school of business. He had schools in Samson, Enterprise and several more locations, in addition to the school in Elba, which was upstairs over the old James English Grocery store and which later housed the Bargaintown store.

On March 1, 1941, Miss Valera and Mr. Henry A. Cordell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Cordell of the Wesley Chapel Community, were married. Mr. Cordell was a barber in Enterprise until retiring and currently lives in their home on the Brantley Highway. They moved to Elba from Enterprise in 1954. It is Miss Valera's prayer (and all of ours, also. I'm sure) that she will remain well and healthy and be able to return to her husband and home in the very near future. When stricken ill, she was first admitted to the Luverne Nursing Home, and after seven weeks, was transferred here in January 1986.

When asked if she liked living in the nursing home, with her husband at home, her reply was so simple and me especially, and a lot of y'all too, I suspect. She replied, "I try to be content and know that God has everything under control." All of us should strive for that philosophy, rather than going around "jousting with windmills.

We commented on Miss Valera's pretty and unusual first name and nquired how she came by it, to which she replied, "Daddy named me - I don't know where he got it." Miss Valera was a "career woman' long before the term originated. She worked for Huev and Huey Lawyers, in Enterprise from June 9, 1928 until July 1943, and then her only child was born in September of that year. In 1954 she started working for Charles Rowe, in his law office, which was located here in Elba over Paul's Cafe. Upon his death she began working with his cousin, office was in the old city hall and police building. She worked with nim until her retirement in 1979. In between the two jobs with the lawyers, she worked with Neal Logue in Enterprise as a bookkeeper for two years; Enterprise Banking Company wo - three years; and almost a year with National Security Insurance. Also, in that interim, Mr. and Mrs. Cordell moved to Texas, in the Rio Grande Valley area, where she tried, unsuccessfully, to find After about a year they returned to Alabama. So, as one can see, according to Mr. Webster, these two words mean "pride, quality, noblewith a variety of jobs and challenges.

ANSWERS TO YOUR BIBLE QUESTIONS

QUESTION: DO MIRACLES OCCUR TODAY?

No. We must remember what the issue is, however. There is no question that miracles were done in the days of Christ, and His apostles, because the Bible clearly says that they did perform miracles. There is also no question as to whether or not God has enough power to perform miracles, because we know that He does have enough power. It is also not a question of whether or not there is value in prayer for the sick, because the Bible tells us to pray for the sick. The question is, what does the Bible teach about miracles today? We must remember the purpose of miracles. In the beginning, God created by His miraculous power, but after the creation, things continued according to God's natural law. At first, God spoke through inspired men, but God now speaks through His inspired written word, the Bible, and no longer needs the inspired men to speak for him.

Miraculous power helped men confirm the word in the first century, but today we have the Bible to confirm the truthfulness of the word, and no longer need miracles. Jesus said, "the works I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me" (John 10:25). Mark 16:20 describes the disciples of Christ preaching everywhere, "the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following." How long were miracles to endure? I Corinthians 12 lists nine spiritual gifts such as wisdom, tongues, miracles, and prophecy. At the end of the chapter Paul reminded the Corinthians that not every christian had the gifts, and showed them what he called the "more excellent way" of chapter 13. In verses 8 through 10, he pointed out that the gift of prophecy would "fail," the gift of tongues would "cease," and the gift of knowledge would "vanish away." He continued, "But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away." So Paul definitely stated that miracles would cease when "that which is perfect is come." "That which is perfect" is God's completed revelation, the New Testament, what ames called the "perfect law of liberty" (James 1:25).

There are things which happen today, which cannot be explained, but they are not miracles. For example, sometimes doctors annot explain how some people recover from illness, but no one has the power to heal miraculously today. When we examine the miracles of the New Testament, we find that everyone the Lord attempted to heal was healed. The only exception to the principle was the lunatic the apostles could not heal because they, the healers, did not have enough faith. We also find that the cures of Christ were immediate, and were 100% effective. They are successful primarily because their followers just believe in healing, whether or not it has actually nappened. God's word neither promises nor authorizes "faith

The high school basketball tournament has now ended, spring football training is drawing to a close and the AEA holidays start next week. I guess that means baseball and softball are right around the corner!

ELBA FALLS IN OPENING ROUND OF STATE TOURNEY The Elba Tigers' first visit to the state basketball tournament in 21 years was a short and disappointing one; however, just to make the "final 8" and earn a spot at the state tournament is an honor most teams never get, and this year's team is to be congratulated for its fine performance all season Elba had several chances to pull out a win Friday in its opener against Brooks, but the Tigers didn't play one of their better games and the result was a loss. The Tigers were hampered by fouls from the very start of the game, and I had a bad feeling almost instantly when Mike McCollough was whistled for a foul only :10 into the game; but Elba recovered from the early problems and still owned a slim lead in the fourth quarter, only to miss key free-throws that allowed Brooks to pull away for the win. If Elba had played well it would have won easily, but that wasn't the case and Brooks deserved

One bright spot in the game was the play of Elba's Kevin Goosby, who scored 29 points and grabbed 8 rebounds, both of which were game highs. Goosby worked hard on both ends of the court and wowed the crowd with two slam-dunks, and undoubtedly earned the respect of all basketball fans in the coliseum. The loss wasn't much of a way to end his career; however, Kevin Goosby went out playing super like he did all his career, and it will be a long time before Elba fans stop talking about his talents!

ZION CHAPEL GOES DOWN SWINGING IN CLASS 2A TOURNEY

The surprising Zion Chapel Rebels played well in their opener at the Class 2A state tournament and gave top-ranked DAR all it could handle before falling. The Rebels weren't given much of a chance to make the state tourney and weren't given any chance at all to knock off DAR, but they battled hard and represented Coffee County well. My hat's off to all the Zion Chapel folks for making the season a very interesting one, to say the least!

LOOKING BACK AT THE STATE TOURNAMENT

I made it to both the Zion Chapel and Elba games, and although it meant traveling almost 500 miles in two days, the trips were well worth the ride and most enjoyable. The 1A-2A-3A tourney was held at Auburn and the people at Auburn working with the tournament were extremely nice and very helpful. I'd never been to Auburn's Memorial Coliseum; however, if the same folks work there all the time I'll definitely plan on going back! The 4A-5A-6A event was held at the University of Alabama and as always the people were most congenial. The tourney has been at Alabama for years and they are old hands at making you feel at home

I don't really like playing the tourney at two different sites, for obvious easons, and think a possible solution is to move the tourney up a week and play it during the AEA holidays. The tourney would wipe out the vacation for the students involved, but the tourney trip is a vacation anyway and real basketball people would rather go to the state tourney than go to the beach

> IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF ALABAMA

GABRIEL JOHNSON, ET AL, PLAINTIFF UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, ET AL Civil Action No. 80-0836-H

NOTICE OF SETTLEMENT OF CLASS ACTION

A proposed settlement has been reached in a class action suit in the Federal District Court in Mobile. Alabama which claims that the Farmers Home Administration did not properly handle and service the loans of homeowners under Section 502 Rural Housing Homeownership Housing Program. The class of people who might be helped under this settlement are "all persons in Alabama who were homeowners under the Farmers Home Administration Section 502 Rural Housing Homeownership Housing Program, and who have seen, are now being, or may in the future be, dispossessed of their property by foreclosure in countervention of the due process clause of the fifth amendment . . . " In ther words, all people who have or had a rural housing loan with FmHA and who have not been given all the help they were supposed to get from FmHA are included in this suit. The proposed settlement says that the Farmers Home Administration has agreed to let attorneys from the Legal Services Corporation look at the files of certain present and former FmHA borrowers The files which will be looked at are the files of former FmHA borrowers who lost their FmHA financed homes by foreclosure or otherwise between December 31, 1980 and July 8, 1985, and existing borrowers who received a notice of acceleration before July 8, 1985. The purpose of looking at the files is to see if any mistakes were made by FmHA in servicing these loans and to see if the borrowers and former borrowers were given all the help they were supposed to get in order to keep up with their payments and keep their homes. If servicing mistakes were made by FmHA, you may be able to get your house back and have your loan reinstated or have foreclosure stopped.

If you wish to object to the proposed settlement, opt-out from the settlement in order to pursue an independent action or if you wish to find out if you are a member of this class or you wish to find out what your rights are under the proposed settlement you may contact the attorneys for the Plaintiff Class before April 4, 1986. The high school basketball tournament has now ended, spring football training is drawing to a close and the AEA holidays start next week. I guess that means baseball and softball are right around the corner!

ELBA FALLS IN OPENING ROUND OF STATE TOURNEY

The Elba Tigers' first visit to the state basketball tournament in 21 years was a short and disappointing one; however, just to make the "final 8" and earn a spot at the state tournament is an honor most teams never get, and this year's team is to be congratulated for its fine performance all season

Elba had several chances to pull out a win Friday in its opener against Brooks, but the Tigers didn't play one of their better games and the result was a loss. The Tigers were hampered by fouls from the very start of the game, and I had a bad feeling almost instantly when Mike McCollough was whistled for a foul only :10 into the game; but Elba recovered from the early problems and still owned a slim lead in the fourth quarter, only to miss key free-throws that allowed Brooks to pull away for the win. If Elba had played well it would have won easily, but that wasn't the case and Brooks deserved

One bright spot in the game was the play of Elba's Kevin Goosby, who scored 29 points and grabbed 8 rebounds, both of which were game highs. Goosby worked hard on both ends of the court and wowed the crowd with two slam-dunks, and undoubtedly earned the respect of all basketball fans in the coliseum. The loss wasn't much of a way to end his career; however, Kevin Goosby went out playing super like he did all his career, and it will be a long time before Elba fans stop talking about his talents!
